INTERNATIONAL EDUCATION WEEK

University of Arkansas– Fort Smith | Office Of International Relations

Why Participate?

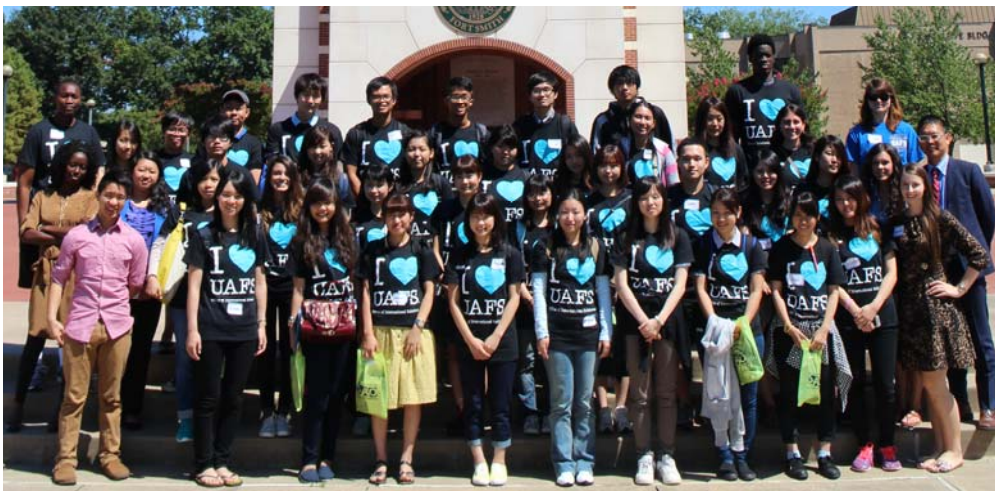

The diversity of International Student at UAFS has increased every year, and in order to expand the knowledge about other cultures, the Office of International Relations has created the International Education Week to support the importance of international cooperation and friendship, and to help the International Students to recognize and to promote the culture differences of the campus. The central focus of this event is about global awareness and it provides you many helpful programs coordinated by cultural associations such as Vietnamese Student Association, American International Activities Council, Spanish Club and African Student Association, and many more. In addition, you can find fun things to do such as the quiz bowl and the speech contest, also you can enjoy a great time, make new friends and learn more about their countries.

Dates: November 17-21, 2014
